

Franklin Lacey, Monologue Artist, Scores Hit at Woman's Club Dinner

Husbands Guests of Members at Exceptional Entertainment

Franklin Lacey, master of monologue of Masque Association in Hollywood, appeared at Torrance Woman's club last night in a program of amusing, original and witty impersonations. His portrayal of masculine and feminine characters was equally fine, his voice registering from a deep throated to a soprano that of an aspiring prima donna.

His first act, "Hattie in Search of a Vacation," started the program with a bang. This is the story of Hattie, who with her friend goes to the steamship office for tickets—but they don't know where they want to go.

"Lord Frigginton's American Romance," his second offering, dealt with a young Englishman torn between love for an American girl and his father's stern rules of propriety. Needless to say the American Girl solves his problems.

For his third and last presentation, Lacey chose his "Nightingale of Huffed Center" in which he appeared as the Mayor of the city introducing the most talented musical comedy star, Gabay Gabay, who sings "The Champs Elysee," one of Lacey's own compositions.

Ten minute intermissions between acts was filled with musical selections beautifully rendered by Kathryn Buffington. Mrs. Buffington assisted in Lacey in his musical numbers. This was, by far, the finest hour of humorous entertainment presented at the local club. Mrs. Charles Schuffe, first vice-president and program chairman, was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. C. T. Rippey and her committee were in charge of dinner arrangements. Tables were decorated in spring blossoms and covers placed for 150 members and their husbands.

PRIZE WINNERS AT W.O.M. PARTY

Mrs. Mable Abramson, Pat Wolfe, Augusta Barnett, Elsie Smith, Adeline Smith, Ruth Barton, Irene Vincent, Messrs. E. Milka, J. Stewart Miller, Floyd Melster, Harry Pierce, J. E. Livernore and T. J. Wilkes were prize winners at the second in the series of card parties sponsored by Women of the Moose.

The party held in McDonald hall 1801 Carson street, last Friday evening was attended by 85 persons. Next of the series will be held Friday evening, March 31.

Mrs. Verde Grimm, 1614 214th street, entertained Women of the Moose at their monthly child care and training meeting in her home today. Ruth Kied, committee chairman was co-hostess.

The public is invited to attend a special candy demonstration in the hall, 1951 Carson street, Friday, March 10, at 8:00 p. m. Admission will be charged. According to Augusta Barnett, publicity chairman. Each person attending will receive a box of candy, bottle of vanilla and a cook book.

LUCKS CELEBRATE 16TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Luck, 1004 Beach avenue, were pleasantly surprised last Thursday, when friends gathered at their home to help celebrate their 16th wedding anniversary and presented them with a lovely gift.

Included were Messrs. and Mrs. G. Potoroff, Jack Miller, Roy McCleod, G. Bradford, B. Riley, S. Butler, Carl Cheadle, and A. Brown of Los Angeles.

SCHOOL SHOWS WOMEN EASY WAY TO ACQUIRE WARDROBE

N.Y. Fashion Expert Starts Unique Course

"To a woman, a new dress is the best tonic in the world," writes Mrs. Picken. "It means more in psychological satisfaction than that of the vitamins. And if she has made it herself with real skill, her satisfaction is multiplied because of her pride in her accomplishment and the saving she has effected."

"My dream has been to make it possible for women and girls everywhere to enjoy that thrill of having new clothes whenever they want them, by making sewing so easy and fascinating that it is really fun."

Mrs. Picken herewith describes briefly the unique 100-Point Plan she has devised for students of her school. She explains that there are really more than 1,000 construction points in dressmaking, but if a woman knows only 100 of them she will be able to make practically all the clothes she will want the rest of her life.

Each Lesson Complete

"The modern way to learn is by doing," Mrs. Picken says. "So I have designed a wardrobe of 17 garments, each one of which includes a definite number of the 100 points. The student starts at once making something attractive to wear. In a short time she has not only learned the 100 essential points, but in so doing she has made for herself morning, afternoon, and evening dresses, a housecoat, a negligee, and a dressmaker suit, all in colors correct for her and individually becoming."

"Not a penny extra is spent for fabrics, patterns, or supplies," she explains. "These are included in the plan, which is mailed in nine units, one at a time. There is no waiting to begin, no need for delay. Each package brings the patterns, fabrics, and notions—in fact, everything needed to make the garments in that unit. Yes, everything—from the fabric even to the right needles and thread—and the illustrated instructions which explain every point."

3 KITE SAFETY RULES

1. Fly your kite in an open field. Keep it far away from power lines.

2. Be sure the string is perfectly dry. Never use wire, tinsel string or cord that is damp from rain or fog.

3. If your kite catches in a power line... let go! Do not pull it. Phone the service company to whom the line belongs and a line-man will come to get your kite for you.

Parents! Impress these safety rules upon your children, and they will know all the joys of kite flying with none of the dangers which attend carelessness.
